

46TH ANNUAL MEETING

SSTAR 2021

SEX, RELIGION, AND POLITICS: UNDERSTANDING AND CHALLENGING THE BELIEFS THAT SHAPE OUR EXPERIENCES

April 29 – May 2, 2021

Virtually

WELCOME LETTER

Welcome to the 46th Annual meeting of SSTAR, which is being held virtually! In our 46th year as an organization, we continue to celebrate our commitment to excellence in the field of human sexuality — in research, clinical practice, education, and training—as well as our commitment to the principle that people from all ages and backgrounds have a right to healthy sexuality, a right to sex therapy treatment, and access to scientific discovery informing their sexual health and wellbeing.

We have been living in the most unusual times, and although the virtual format of this Annual meeting is obviously different, we hope you will see from the conference schedule that we have attempted to create an experience that closely resembles a typical in-person SSTAR Annual meeting. We are excited to share this opportunity to hear from many dynamic speakers across a variety of different areas and disciplines in clinical sexuality about the complex ways in which sex, religion, and politics intersect to influence our experiences with ourselves and each other.

In addition to the scientific stimulation that our meeting provides, there will be virtual opportunities to foster your own connections with colleagues and friends. Specifically, we are offering two interactive poster sessions on Thursday and Friday afternoon/evening. Not only can you interact live with the poster presenters (which we highly encourage because there is some great work being presented!), you can also use this format to meet up virtually with friends and colleagues right there in the virtual conference room! We know it is not exactly the same as an in-person meeting, but we hope it still fosters connection among SSTAR members, students, and first-time attendees and provides an opportunity to create the collegial and welcoming atmosphere that makes SSTAR such a great organization!

Here are some of the other highlights you can anticipate at this meeting:

- There will be three different workshops offered on Thursday with topics including black women and sexuality, working with gender-diverse clients, and supervision in sex therapy. You won't want to miss these presentations by our dynamic and knowledgeable presenters!
- Engaging conference sessions will involve live and interactive poster presentations, data blitzes, and in-depth research and clinical addresses on exciting new sexuality research. As always, these sessions are a balance of invited and peer-reviewed talks that reflect a wide variety of topics and cutting-edge research in human sexuality and the treatment of sexual and relational difficulties.
- Our popular clinical case presentation will be on Friday and will provide an exciting opportunity for discussion amongst our attendees on the treatment of two complex clinical cases involving the navigation of differences in cultural perspectives between a clinician and two of her couples' therapy clients.
- Graduate and postdoctoral fellows are invited to participate in a lunch and learn on Saturday with both an experienced sex therapy clinician and sex researcher to discuss career and personal development, academia, and clinical work in human sexuality.
- On Sunday morning, our ethics workshop will address issues of confidentiality in discussions around sexuality.

Whether you are a student, newcomer, or regular attendee, we are eager to welcome you to this 46th Annual SSTAR meeting! We look forward to seeing you virtually to engage in lively discussions, collegial debates, and knowledge translation in sex therapy and research. The annual SSTAR conference provides us all with the opportunity to connect with one another and actively contribute to the continued growth and success of our organization and our field. This conference also gives newcomers the chance to see firsthand what makes SSTAR so unique — the warmth, respect, and openness we share with one another in our collective goal of improving lives through excellence in sex research and clinical practice.

See you there!

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This program is designed for a broad range of medical and mental health professionals with an interest in the care of people with sexual concerns, as well as for sex researchers/scholars and trainees in sexology, psychology, and other medical and mental health disciplines.

The Society for Sex Therapy and Research is the premier international professional organization solely focused on sexual disorders.

SCHOLARSHIPS

SSTAR is foremost committed to fostering clinical sexuality practice and research. In order to fulfill this mission, SSTAR is dedicated to being a welcoming and inclusive environment for all who work in the field of human sexuality, including Black, Indigenous or other Persons of Color (BIPOC), individuals from the LGBT2SQ+ communities, and students as well as early career professionals.

SSTAR recognizes that payment of conference registration fees can be an economic hardship and is therefore offering 3 scholarships for the 2021 Annual Conference of up to $825 each to attend 3 preconference workshops, the annual meeting on Friday and Saturday and post-conference Ethics workshop on Sunday. Applicants need not be SSTAR members. Click here to see the specific criteria and to apply. Those who apply for a scholarship are asked to wait to register until they have received a reply from the Scholarship Committee, which will be prior to April 1.
